ALTITUDE VINEYARDS

Examples of the new Marrenon style, these wines are made from grapes selected from Luberon and Ventoux at an altitude between 300 and 500m. The production of the wines focuses on bringing out their aromatic intensity and freshness on top of consistently appealing bodies. The terroir richness brings various expressions and finesse to white and red wines. Our cuvées are all made for the same goal : sharing moments!

ROSÉS

Our terroirs enjoy a nice mediterranean climat. Altitude has also an influence to the vines bringing temperature differences and cool draughts coming from the Alpes. Our region is one of the most sunny in France with 2600 hours of sun per year. These characteristics bring a typicity, aromas and freshness to our wines.

M A R R E N O N

Vignobles en Luberon & Ventoux

In production for over 50 years in this majestic region, in the heart of the Luberon Regional Natural Park between the Rhône valley and Provence, Marrenon is now considered the signature wine of the Luberon and Ventoux region.

This internationally renowned winery embodies respect for the terroir and the know-how of winegrowers on a permanent quest for quality. Certified by various seals of approval (Agri Confiance, organic wine, Marque Parc, IFS BRC, RSE), it is also the winner of multiple international awards.

Marrenon's land is an altitude vineyard located in the Luberon Regional Natural Park, recognized as a Unesco Biosphere Reserve. It stretches from North to South between two mythical mountains: the Luberon and the Ventoux.

The diversity of this terroir and its soils, the range of grape varieties, and the constant sunshine, tempered by the Mistral, all enable Marrenon to offer a wide range of wines in unique styles, perfectly suited to different tasting moments.

On the strength of this dynamic and discerning approach, Marrenon is now broadening its horizons with the 'Belles Echappées' range. Marrenon's passion for the flagship Syrah variety lies at the heart of these new wines under the Gigondas, Crozes-Hermitage and Plan de Dieu appellations - and many others to come.
